Achieving sustainable production of poultry meat Volume 24 Jun 24 2019 To meet growing demand, the FAO has estimated that world poultry production needs to grow by 2-3% per year to 2030. However, more intensive systems and complex supply chains have increased the risk of rapid transmission of animal diseases and zoonoses. Consumer expectations of sensory and nutritional quality have never been higher. At the same time consumers are more concerned about the environmental impact of poultry production.

as well as animal welfare. Drawing on an international range of expertise, this book reviews research on safety, quality and sustainability issues in poultry production.
